EUGENE CITY COUNCIL

AGENDA ITEM SUMMARY

Work Session: City Manager Annual Performance Review

Meeting Date: July 22, 2015
 Department: Central Services, Human Resources
www.eugene-or.gov

Agenda Item Number: B
 Staff Contact: Alana Holmes
 Contact Telephone Number: 541-682-5765

ISSUE STATEMENT

Jon Ruiz was hired as the Eugene City Manager on April 14, 2008. This agenda item is for the council to conduct City Manager Ruiz's annual performance review. The two-part format agreed upon by the council and City Manager Ruiz includes an executive session followed by a public session to share overall performance feedback. Based on the discussion, the City Manager will submit his proposed goals for the coming year to the council.

BACKGROUND

This year's feedback process includes a couple of key questions, framed from the agreed-upon performance dimensions, which were sent to the executive leaders of each City department, other City employees who had worked on projects with the City Manager, Union leadership and an identified group of community leaders. City Councilors are also completing their own evaluation forms. A summary of this feedback and the City Manager's self-evaluation are being sent to the council in advance of this work session.

Human Resources is compiling this information to support the City Council in getting a well-rounded view of the performance of the City Manager this past year. Human Resources will also calculate the compensation adjustment based on the City Manager contract language. With respect to compensation, the contract provides that the City Manager will receive (1) whatever COLA that non-represented employees receive, and (2) a merit and deferred compensation adjustment based on the ratings that the council gives to the City Manager, "unless the council determines that the City's budget situation is sufficiently ominous that no merit or deferred compensation increase should be made." The calculation related to any compensation adjustment will be included in the notebook containing the evaluation forms and summaries that will be provided to each elected official.

RELATED CITY POLICIES

The City Council has historically conducted an annual performance review of the City Manager.

SUGGESTED MOTION

None.

ATTACHMENTS

Notebooks containing the following information will be provided under separate cover:

- A. Copies of the compiled feedback summaries
- B. Individual comments from city councilors
- C. Copy of an overall summary of the councilors' review comments and ratings to go into the section of the notebook labeled "Mayor and Council Comments"
- D. Compensation information based on final ratings

Introduction

Ordinance 20374 which enables Eugene’s Civilian Review Board, requires the Board to “...prepare and present an annual report to the city council that:

- (a) Summarizes the civilian review board’s activities, findings and recommendations during the preceding year;
- (b) Assesses the performance of the police auditor...; and,
- (c) Evaluates the work of the auditor’s office, including whether the office is functioning as intended.” [ORD 20374; 2.246 (7)]

Eugene’s Civilian Review Board (CRB) is designed to provide transparency and help ensure public confidence in the police complaint process. The Board evaluates the work of the independent Police Auditor, and reviews complaints to provide a community perspective about whether complaints are handled fairly and with due diligence.

Our meetings are open to the public and provide an opportunity to review the complaint process and hear input from members of our community. While we are committed to maintaining the confidentiality of the involved parties, discussing complaints in public allows the community to learn about the complaint intakes, classifications, investigations and determinations as they are discussed openly and critically. It also allows members of the public that have filed complaints to ask the board for review of their case at a future meeting.

One part of the process involves review of Service Complaints. Service complaints are complaints about: “...Police employee performance or demeanor, customer service and/or level of police service” [ECC 2.452]. Generally, service complaints are referred to an involved officer’s supervisor who reviews the issue and follows up with both the complainant and the officer. The supervisor prepares a memo detailing their review of the complaint and contact with the involved parties. The OPA reviews the materials for completeness and thoroughness, and then contacts the complainant for a follow-up and a survey. The CRB’s reviews of service complaint files do not contain the same level of detail found in the investigative files related to allegations of misconduct. Nonetheless, we try to make a practice of reviewing service and policy complaints during at least one meeting per year. Further, each month we receive information regarding all complaints received by the OPA (including inquiries, service complaints, and policy complaints). Questions regarding the classifications of such complaints are posed to the Auditor during board meetings.

The majority of the work by the CRB involves cases more complex than service complaints and are classified as case reviews. During case reviews, Board members discuss, deliberate, and analyze the Internal Affairs investigation, the Auditor’s monitoring of the Eugene Police Department’s (EPD) internal administrative investigations, and has the opportunity to discuss, agree or disagree on the supervisor’s recommended adjudication, the chain of command’s recommended adjudication, the Auditor’s recommended adjudication and the Chief’s final adjudication. The review of the investigations may include, but are not limited to: reviewing investigative files, listening to digital recordings of interviews and live audio from the scene of an incident, and observing videos related to complaints. Often the process of reviewing a case prior to a board meeting is several hours.

Whether we are looking at service complaints or a case review we decide whether we agree with the classification of the complaint and have the opportunity to review policy and service complaints classified as something other than an allegation of misconduct.

In addition to service complaints and case reviews, the CRB engages in continuous learning associated with police practices, civil rights, constitutional based policing practices, and interactions with vulnerable communities. Just as each case brings forth a new issue so too does the continuing learning by board members of community services that impact the job of the EPD. The efforts in continuous learning prove beneficial to the Board's overall approach to its mission by ensuring a comprehensive understanding of relevant processes and community factors influencing various decision makers and affected parties.

The Board also considers and discusses current policies and practices and whether or not revisions seem appropriate. These policy recommendations are channeled to the Police Commission and the Police Chief through the CRB's appointed representative to the Police Commission.

We appreciate the support the City Council, Mayor, Office of Police Auditor, The Eugene Police Department, and many service organizations that have presented to us over the past year. The members of the Board are proud to participate in process that continues to evolve and allows the community to glimpse into the "whys" of police work and the officers present are able to hear comments from community members in a thoughtful, and we hope, helpful forum.

Thank you for the opportunity to be of service.

Sincerely,

Bernadette Conover
Board Chair

Eric VanHouten
Board Vice-Chair

Mission Statement

It is the mission of the Civilian Review Board to provide fair and impartial oversight and review of internal investigations conducted by the City of Eugene Police Department into allegations of police misconduct, use of force and other matters that have an impact on the community. The Board will strive to build trust and confidence within the community and to ensure that complaints are handled fairly, thoroughly and adjudicated reasonably. The Board will encourage community involvement and transparency in order to promote the principles of community policing in the City of Eugene.

2014 Overview

The CRB is required to meet four times a year. The CRB met nine times in 2014, all public meetings including a joint meeting with the Police Commission and one meeting in which the CRB reviewed the performance of the Auditor's office. The CRB reviewed 8 case files involving multiple allegations and/or multiple officers and 5 service complaints.

The Board (with the help of the Office of the Police Auditor) identified policy concerns and communicated such to the Police Commission and the Eugene Police Department.

Case Review Summaries

In preparing for a case review, Board members have complete access to the Internal Affairs investigative file. These materials include call logs, correspondence, in-car videos and digitally recorded interviews of complainants, officers, witnesses and others with potentially relevant information.

Board members review file materials, the fact-finding report prepared by the Internal Affairs investigating officer, along with the Adjudication recommendations of the Auditor, the Supervisors and the Chief of Police. During our reviews, the IA investigator is available to answer questions about the complaint investigation. The Lieutenant who supervises Internal Affairs is also available to answer questions regarding department practices, policies and procedures.

The Board follows a case review process delineated in its Policies and Procedures Manual. The Board reviews each case by evaluating and commenting on the complaint handling through the following steps:

1. Auditor's case presentation,
2. Complaint intake and classification,
3. Complaint investigation and monitoring,
4. Relevant department policies and procedures,
5. Policy and/or training considerations,
6. Adjudication recommendations, and
7. Additional comments and/or concerns.

A brief summary of the 2014 individual case reviews follows:

FEBRUARY CASE REVIEW— Auditor initiated complaint that an officer, while facilitating the return of a 10 year- old boy to his father who had by court order full custody of the child, struck the child in the forehead with his open palm after the child bit him.

Summary: The officer was dispatched to a city park to help facilitate a transfer of a minor child to his father who had produced a court order granting him full custody of his child. The mother at the time refused to provide the location of the child. After sometime, two juveniles appeared and the mother yelled for the child to flee. Once verifying that the child was the child in question the officer pursued and caught up to the child. While escorting the child back to the parents an unidentified woman began filming and taunting the officer. Another male juvenile began running alongside of the officer heckling him. At this point the officer felt a pinching sensation in his hand and looked down to find the child biting him on the hand. The officer reached over and with his free hand and open palm pushed the child's forehead away from his hand saying "Don't Bite."

The Auditor's Office received numerous calls about the video that had been posted on YouTube with complainants upset that the officer had struck a child.

Allegations:

Use of Force: The Supervising Lieutenant, Supervising Captain, Police Auditor, and Chief of Police determined the Use of Force was within policy.

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: The Board, after review determined that the investigation was thorough and although the incident was unfortunate the officer did not over react but with a calm demeanor did just enough to stop the biting and return the child to the custodial parent. The CRB agreed with the recommended and final adjudications.

FEBRUARY CASE REVIEW 2 – The second case reviewed by the CRB in February was an incident in which an officer was accused of violating the constitutional rights of a woman of color by patting her down during a traffic stop.

Summary: The reporting party was stopped for a defective tail light and during the stop admitted to the officer that she did not have insurance. At this point the officer made the determination to cite the reporting party and impound her vehicle. The officer returned to his patrol car and checked the reporting party's driving record and for any warrants. During this time Officer B responded to the scene and the two officers discussed the inventory search policy and how it relates to impounding the vehicle. The officers then muted their microphones (8 minutes into the recording). The officer then returned to the reporting party's vehicle and appeared to explain the citation to her. At 20 minutes on the recording the reporting party exited her vehicle, listened to the officer and raised her arms above her head while the officer performed a pat down search of the woman's person. During the investigation the officer could not recall rather or not he asked the reporting party for consent to search and his microphone was still muted. The reporting party could be seen repeatedly shaking her head during the search and when she later contacted the Auditor's Office she stated the officer did not do anything inappropriate but she felt the search was unnecessary.

Allegations:

Constitutional Rights: That Officer A patted down the reporting party without reasonable suspicion that she was armed and dangerous.

Recommended Adjudications:

Supervising Sergeant: Within Policy

Supervising Lieutenant: Within Policy

Supervising Captain: Sustained

Police Auditor: Sustained

Chief of Police: Sustained

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: The Board, after review, agreed that the investigation was thorough and complete. One member noted that the officer seemed genuinely concerned during his interview that he had violated someone's constitutional rights. The Board agreed with the Chief's adjudication of Sustained as a final outcome of the case.

MARCH CASE REVIEW – In March the Civilian Review Board looked at an allegation that an officer used excessive force on a detainee at a football game and was discourteous by using profanity toward the detainee.

Summary: The reporting party was approached by Officer A in the football stands concerning an altercation with another fan. The officer asked the reporting party to come speak with him at the top of the stands. The reporting party began moving up the stairs and then stopped, at which time the reporting party stated that the officer struck him with his flashlight and used profanity toward him. The reporting party at this time told Officer A that he was a State Trooper. Once at the top of the stairs the reporting party complained that the officer refused to identify himself. Additional officers escorted the reporting party from the stadium with the admonishment that he could not return that night and that his supervisor would be notified.

Allegations:

Use of Force: Officer A used excessive force by striking the reporting party with a flashlight.

Courtesy: That Officer A used profanity while addressing the reporting party.

Performance: That Officer A refused to identify himself when asked for his name.

Recommended Adjudications:

Use of Force: The Supervising Sergeant, Lieutenant and Captain all adjudicated the Use of Force as Unfounded, as did the Police Auditor and the Chief of Police. There was no evidence that the officer used or even had a flashlight in his hand.

Courtesy: The Supervising Sergeant, the Auditor and all command staff including the Chief found this allegation Sustained.

Performance: The allegation that the officer refused to identify himself was adjudicated as Unfounded by the whole chain of command as well as the Auditor.

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: Members of the Board expressed concern that the investigator was unable to get an interview with the reporting party but understood that the reporting party had made the decision not to talk with the investigator. One member felt that due to the amount of other witnesses interviewed the outcome would have been the same even with an interview with the reporting party. The Board concluded that they agreed with the adjudications made by the Chief.

APRIL CASE REVIEW - The Civilian Review Board reviewed a case in which it was alleged that an officer used excessive force during the processing of a DUII suspect at the jail intake room.

Summary: The reporting party requested that the Civilian Review Board review the stop she was involved in for suspicion of DUII. Officer A responded to the stop to administer a field sobriety test. The woman was taken into custody for DUII. The officer transported the reporting party to the jail intoxylizer room. ICV showed that the reporting party was cooperative but argumentative during the stop. Arriving at the jail the ICV audio captured the officer saying “Stop trying to kick me.” With a reply from the reporting party “Beat me up some more [expletive].” During the intake of the complaint at the Auditor’s Office the reporting party stated she stood up from a bench and was asking questions about the test. The officer told her to sit down and when she did not sit right away the officer shoved his arm and knee into her and hit her head into the wall more than once. There is no video of this area of the jail. The officer’s report stated that as he was filling out paperwork the reporting party stood and began to walk toward the exit. The officer grabbed the reporting party’s arm and pushed her into a sitting position. He stated she kicked him in the shin and tried to continue kicking at him. The officer then delivered a knee strike to the reporting party’s thigh and held her against the wall until Deputies arrived to take her into the jail. The reporting party denied trying to hit or kick the officer and no other witnesses were in the room.

Photos taken at the time showed the reporting party had a red area on the back of her head. The Officer had an abrasion on one elbow, a scratch on his forearm and an abrasion on his shin. A few days after the incident the Auditor’s Office photos showed that the reporting party had lighter bruises on her back and shoulder and a larger bruise on her thigh.

Allegations:

Use of Force: An Officer used excessive force by striking her in the thigh and pushing her into a wall.

Recommended Adjudications: The supervising Sergeant, Lieutenant, and Captain adjudicated the allegation Within Policy as did the Auditor’s Office and the Chief of Police.

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: Members expressed concern that no cameras are in the small isolation room where breathalyzers tests take place, this leads to a “he said she said” scenario now before them. One member felt the officer could have used verbal de-escalation techniques to get a better advantage. The officer seemed to be put out and belittled the woman although the officer's behavior was within Policy the officer did not behave as professionally as they would expect. The Board with the noted concerns agreed with the Chief's adjudication.

JUNE CASE REVIEW - The Civilian Review Board reviewed 5 Service Complaints chosen by Auditor Gissiner to discuss. Service Complaints consist of complaints and concerns brought forward that do not rise to the level of an allegation of misconduct, but are processed and reviewed by an officer's direct supervisor through an alternate dispute resolution process. The supervisor makes contact with the reporting party about their concerns, per ordinance and collectively bargained protocols .

Summary:

Traffic Stop: The reporting party filed a complaint alleging that an officer demeaned her during a traffic stop when she disagreed with the law. Board members appreciated the body cam video that was available and commented on the officer's patience with the reporting party during the stop. One member noted that once an officer gives a lawful order members of the public need to comply, but that the Sergeant reviewing the complaint could have done a better job of explaining that with the reporting party.

Disabled Son Concern: The reporting party, the mother of a mentally disabled son was concerned about interactions he had been having with a school resource officer. The officer seemed to be harassing her son for no reason. Civilian Review Board Members were impressed with the supervisor's conversation with the mother, explaining the reasons for each contact, including reports of her son who is an older teen no longer in school and having inappropriate contact with high school students. Because of the supervisor's communication skills the mother was able to have a constructive conversation about her concerns.

Anonymous Road Rage Complaint: An anonymous caller alleged he was the victim of road rage in which a semi-truck destroyed his bicycle and that the officer did a poor investigation. The Board was appreciative that the Auditor's Office and the supervisor took the allegation seriously even though the complaint proved to have no merit and the reporting party was actually the instigator in the situation.

Hospital Drop Off Complaint: A nursing supervisor filed a complaint about how an officer dropped a person off at the hospital without sufficient contact with staff. The Professional Standards Lieutenant advised the incident needed to be reviewed and made contact with the supervisor to discuss best practices for officers transporting people to the hospital. The Board was pleased with the community outreach.

Rude and Sarcastic Officer: The final complaint reviewed by the Board was an allegation that a sergeant was rude and sarcastic with a citizen when they looked over a stairwell to see what the "commotion" was. The sergeant was alleged to have said "Do you want to join the party?” Some members of the Board felt that officers sometimes use language to control a situation but in this instance the comment to a passerby did seem rude.

SEPTEMBER CASE REVIEW – In September the Civilian Review Board reviewed a case in which a supervisor failed to perform his duties at the scene of a trauma where the custody when into apparent cardiac arrest.

Summary:

EPD officers were dispatched to a fire department request for assistance with a combative patient. When officers arrived EMS was holding the patient down and he was struggling with them. An officer applied handcuffs to the patient and then almost immediately noticed the patient’s face was blue and he was not breathing. The handcuffs were removed and EMT’s began CPR. The patient was transported to the hospital where he was pronounced dead. The supervisor on scene did not initiate death investigation protocols and at one point the officers on the scene felt the supervisor was directing them to fill out a field information card and not complete a report. The officers conferring with a sergeant who advised them to document the incident. It was ultimately documented as an “Outside Agency Assist.” The on scene supervisor did not notify Violent Crimes or the Patrol Captain of the event as per policy.

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: Concerning the complaint intake and classifications Board members commented that officers were expanding self-reporting. Members also agreed with the classification but questioned why a criminal investigation had preceded the IA investigation. Mr. Gissiner noted that when the decision was made for a criminal investigation it was not clear where the criminal investigation began and ended and when the administrative began and ended. In this circumstance, a criminal investigation was conducted first to try to determine exact cause of death. After conclusion of the criminal investigation and review by the DA, the case then became an administrative investigation. CRB members also commented on the applicability of Police Procedure Manual policy 308.6- Death Investigation being used as an allegation as it didn’t seem clear rather the Violent Crimes Supervisor should have been called. The IA sergeant clarified from a training perspective that call depended on the circumstances of each individual case. The consensus from EPD and the Auditor was that the supervisor should have been called and the Violent Crimes Unit activated. A Policy and Training issue mentioned by one member was that when in doubt officers should always go above the bar and conduct a death investigation. The Board members agreed with the adjudication, but a few members remarked that the Chief’s adjudication memo was harsh and his choice of words could have been better. A final comment by a member was that he felt the EMS officials failed to recognize the patient’s condition and additional training on coordination between police and fire at the scene was needed at the leadership level.

OCTOBER CASE REVIEW – An allegation that an officer used excessive force to detain a person at the LTD Downtown Station and that the officer did not have legal authority to detain that person.

Summary:

The reporting party, a juvenile, reported to the Auditor's Office that she was walking on LTD property and shouting obscenities when an LTD officer told her to stop. She continued walking and the LTD officer asked an EPD officer to detain her. The EPD officer twice ordered the reporting party to stop and she continued walking, believing she did not have to stop unless she was under arrest.

Surveillance video showed the officer laid his bike down and physically stopped the reporting party and then took his hand away. The reporting party again attempted to walk away the officer than put his hand on the reporting party's shoulder and pulled her down into a seated position. During the stop the juvenile was cited for possession of tobacco. The officer believed he had reasonable suspicion of a violation or crime when the LTD officer told him to stop the reporting party and that he had used the least amount of force necessary to effect the stop.

LTD's ordinance 36 restricts the use of threatening or offensive language. The EPD officer is contracted by LTD to enforce administrative rules and investigate criminal acts that occur on LTD Property. During this investigation City Attorneys were consulted as to rather it is lawful for an officer to stop someone for LTD's ordinance 36. It was recognized that a gray area existed and it did not provide an officer with clear direction on rather a stop was lawful and justified.

Allegations:

Use of Force: The allegation that an Officer used excessive force when stopping a juvenile at the LTD Downtown Station was adjudicated as Unfounded by the Supervising Sergeant and Lieutenant, while the Captain, Auditor and Police Chief found the allegation to be Within Policy.

Person Stops and Contacts: This allegation was adjudicated Within Policy by the Supervising Sergeant and Lieutenant, Unfounded by the Captain and Within Policy by the Auditor and the Police Chief.

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: Members expressed concerned that the minor requested an adult male to be present at the interview that later was found not to the teen's father. One member questioned the use of cell phone photos for documentation. Another member expressed disappointment that the Alternate School students seemed to be profiled. Members also commented on the complications that arose with free speech issues on quasi-public/private areas and were glad the City Attorney was delving into the EPD contracting with other agencies. Finally members commended the IA Sergeant for his follow-up efforts with the Charter School noting this helped turn the incident into a teachable moment for the teens.

NOVEMBER CASE REPORT – The November 2014 case review looked at an internally reported allegation opened by the Auditor and the Patrol Captain that an officer did not have probable cause to detain a person in violation of Policy 901.1 Use of Force and Policy 418 Mental Health Crisis Response.

Summary: Officer A responding to a reckless driver chasing a male. The officer encountered a man running between the canal and the bike path. When the officer approached the man, the man ran toward the canal and a female jogger. The officer exited his vehicle and asked the man to sit down; the man then stated he was afraid and went down to one knee. The man seemed scared and said someone was chasing him. The officer attempted to handcuff the man so he could detain him on a mental hold for his own safety and the safety of others. At this point the man began resisting the officer while at the same time apologizing for resisting. Due to the active resistance by the man the officer attempted various force methods before using a Taser to take the man into custody. At the hospital a doctor agreed that the man was a danger to himself and to others and admitted the man on a non-criminal hold.

Allegations:

The Use of Force allegation and the Mental Crisis Response Allegation were adjudicated by the Supervising Sergeant, Lieutenant, Captain, Police Auditor and Chief as Within Policy.

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: Members of the Board agreed with the adjudication brought forth by the Chief. Various members commented on the need for officer training in Crisis Intervention and that this young officer would likely benefit with continued training. It was indicative of the mental health system and how inadequate it was to face the needs of the community leading to officers more and more having to handle crisis situations with the mentally ill.

DECEMBER CASE REVIEW – The Civilian Review Board in December reviewed a case in which a man alleged that during a person stop an officer used profanity towards him and with no verbal warning tackled him to the ground, kned him in the back and used his dread locks to pull his head around and push him to the ground. The reporting party also alleged that his head was smashed into the police car door.

Summary: The reporting party was attending a concert at the WOW Hall. He was approached by an officer for holding an open container of beer. The officer had the reporting party sit while he conducted a record check. As the officer stated his designator into his radio, the reporting party thought he heard the officer curse at him. The incident escalated when the reporting party knocked over his beer and then attempted to leave the scene. The officer called for backup and ordered the reporting party to get on the ground. Video of the incident shows the officer and the reporting party struggling on the ground. Back up officers arrived, Officer B began crowd control of the large group of people that had begun to circle the officers and the reporting party. A third officer assisted with taking the reporting party into custody. The video revealed that at one point an officer stood on the reporting party's dread locks, but there was no indication that the reporting party's head was pushed into the patrol car.

Adjudication: The allegation for the 3 officers listed for using excessive force were adjudicated as follows.

1. Use of Force Officer A
 - Supervising Sergeant: Within Policy
 - Supervising Lieutenant: Within Policy
 - Supervising Captain: Within Policy
 - Police Auditor: Within Policy
 - Chief of Police: Within Policy
2. Use of Force Officer C
 - Supervising Sergeant: Unfounded
 - Supervising Lieutenant: Unfounded
 - Supervising Captain: Within Policy
 - Police Auditor: Within Policy
 - Chief of Police: Within Policy
3. Use of Force Officer B
 - Supervising Sergeant: Unfounded
 - Supervising Lieutenant: Unfounded
 - Supervising Captain: Within Policy
 - Police Auditor: Within Policy
 - Chief of Police: Within Policy

Issues for the Civilian Review Board: Members of the board noted several concerns with this incident. First, that a bike officer initiated a person stop alone in front of a crowded concert venue. If backup had not arrived quickly the large crowd could have been a factor for the safety of the officer and the reporting party. Other members expressed concern about the officer who stood on the reporting party's hair, though some believed the officer was not aware he was on the reporting party's dread locks. It was also noted that the reporting party's perception of what had happened and what the ICV revealed did not match. The investigator did a thorough job of bringing out the facts of the case.

Civilian Review Board Training

Members of the Eugene Civilian Review Board have differing life, cultural, professional and educational backgrounds and varying degrees of exposure to law enforcement and corrections professionals, municipal government operations, the criminal justice system, and the full and diverse range of communities served by local law enforcement agencies. The Board recognizes it is important to receive balanced training from a variety of sources both inside and outside the law enforcement.

In 2014 our training came from a variety of sources. Generally a training session occurs at regular meetings and the topics and presenters are selected by the Board in advance. Other training occurs during case reviews when legal and policy discussions occur. The training sessions included:

- March: Canine operations
- June: Computer-Aided Dispatch (CAD) system
- July: Tour and meeting with Lane County jail and staff
- September: Community engagement
- October: Joint meeting with the Police Commission
- November: School Resource officers presentation
- December: Officer Involved Shootings

Identified Policy, Procedure and Training Concerns

Eugene's model of oversight includes the CRB as a quality assurance oversight body to evaluate and comment on the work of Office of the Police Auditor and review and comment on some Internal Affairs investigations arising out of complaints and allegations of misconduct. It also includes providing a CRB representative to the Eugene Police Commission. The CRB also has a representative on the Human Rights Commission. In 2014 both the Auditor's office and the department helped the Board identify concerns that were passed along to the Police Commission and the Chief.

We recognize that the Auditor ultimately decides the classification of a complaint; notwithstanding the input of police command staff. We also recognize that ultimately a decision must be made based on the totality of circumstances. The CRB does debate these classifications, takes the issues seriously and actively engages the Auditor and Deputy Auditor as to the decision-making that occurs with these classifications, recognizing the potential impact to an employee's job status.

The Board regularly seeks clarification regarding procedures and practices that evolve out of case reviews and training discussions. On occasion these result in suggestions to the department for improving services.

Evaluation of the Office of the Police Auditor and the Auditor's Performance

By ordinance, the CRB "shall evaluate the work of the auditor's office..." and shall "establish criteria by which to evaluate the work of the police auditor." Five members of the CRB completed written reviews of the police auditor and the work of the Office of the Police Auditor. The evaluation criteria were along seven dimensions. It should be noted that Mr. Gissiner has never shied away from discussions around his performance. Each time a case review takes place Mr. Gissiner and his office is evaluated. It is not uncommon for comments made in meetings about a process change to result at the next meeting.

The OPA and the Auditor's performance were rated in each dimension and individual comments and suggestions for improvement were included in the evaluation. The 2014 evaluation is included in the evaluation for Council in its evaluation of June 2014.

The Board previously sent the information to the Council in its performance evaluation packet in June 2015. The entire package is available upon request. Overall eight dimensions were evaluated. In those dimensions the Auditor's office met or exceeded expectations. Points of emphasis include continued efforts to strategize how to get additional community engagement in the processes.

Conclusions

We have an engaged and thoughtful civilian review board that invests considerable personal time to participate in and evaluate the police oversight processes in Eugene. They are the community's representatives in analyzing the internal administrative personnel processes of EPD and the external monitoring and complaint intake processes of the Auditor's office. The CRB continually strives to have open and transparent discussion of case review, policy considerations and training issues. The CRB consistently meets more than the minimum requirements of the ordinance. At most meetings, the entire board is present. The CRB must evaluate difficult personnel and policy issues that impact community members and sworn police personnel. They have been complimentary, critical, inquisitive and decisive. It is an honor and privilege to serve the community of Eugene. In 2014 Eugene's system of civilian oversight continued to evolve and develop. We look forward to continuing our work and we are committed to improving our processes in service of the community.

 City Councilors

I am honored to present the 2014 Annual Report of the Office of the Independent Police Auditor (OPA). This report covers the period from January 1, 2014 – December 31, 2014. 2014 was again marked by a stable, dedicated and hardworking Civilian Review Board (CRB), investigative work by EPD's Internal Affairs Section that continued to meet expectations, and decisive actions on sustained complaints. With minimal impact caused by personnel changes, all entities were able to focus on the work that needs to be accomplished to meet Council and community goals.

We remain constrained by Oregon Public Records laws that restrict our ability to communicate with optimal transparency to the community about important issues. We aim to be as transparent as possible with our weekly newsletter and annual report. The keys to building and maintaining community trust are transparency and open government. Laws that shield the public from openness and transparency feed portals of distrust and discontent and block the opportunities to identify good work done by many employees.

This report includes analysis of complaints and trends, decisions on classifications of complaints, policy and adjudication recommendations, the work of the Civilian Review Board (CRB), community outreach and education, and discussion of major cases. Statistical profiles of complaints, allegations and findings are provided with commentary. One issue of note is the continued increase in overall complaints, as well as in internally generated complaints. Our opinion is that the number of external complaints is indicative of the wide knowledge the community has of our office, the historic nature of Eugene in engaging in civic affairs, and public confidence (albeit not universal) in the complaints system. We interpret the increase in internal complaints as an EPD expression of confidence in the oversight system, and it has largely been accomplished both through our office's monitoring of Blue Team entries (data software detailing use of force, property damage, vehicle pursuits and accidents, and similar incidents) and increased identification of clear expectations of EPD supervisors and command staff in understanding their responsibilities in reporting potential misconduct. These successive advancements have helped direct our focus toward higher value work.

Beyond complaint resolution, we work with the Police Commission and EPD to promote policy improvements, focused on emphasizing the training and skills necessary to successfully navigate interactions with the community. The OPA and the CRB meet and continue to work with external groups to learn about their interests and the services they provide.

We wish to thank the Mayor and City Council for their support in actively and vigorously participating in the oversight process. Also, we wish to thank the City's Executive Team, and other support staff for all of the "back room" functions they provide including but not limited to finance, budget, information technology and human resources. Without them, we would have a more difficult time providing customer service to our community.

Staff work from Deputy Auditor Leia Pitcher and Senior Program Coordinator Vicki Cox has been nothing short of exemplary. Finally, my congratulations and sincere gratitude to the members of the CRB (chaired by Bernadette Conover) for their hard work on difficult issues and their tireless volunteer efforts to the community to assist us with this process. They take valuable time from their personal and professional lives to give back to the community under circumstances that at times can be stressful and controversial.

Many Eugene police officers work tirelessly for the greater good of our community. These efforts should be recognized. In addition, we have seen, although not necessarily measurable, upward trending in supervisor engagement in the daily activities of officers. No one is mistake free. The vast majority of police who make mistakes of the heart — meaning they have no malice and are not attempting to shirk responsibility — are treated fairly and sent back to work. Some have come forward on their own to admit mistakes or lapses in judgment. At the same time, those who commit acts with malice and forethought are treated with swift and decisive action.

We welcome your comments and suggestions regarding how we can improve this report.

Respectfully submitted,

Mark Gissiner
Police Auditor

Our Mission

To provide an accessible, safe, impartial and responsive intake system for complaints against Eugene Police Department employees and to ensure accountability, fairness, transparency and trust in the complaint system.

Our Purpose

The Police Auditor has three broad mandates: 1) to receive and classify complaints of police misconduct; 2) to audit the investigations based on these complaints; and 3) to analyze trends and recommend improvements to police services in this city. In addition, the Police Auditor supports a Civilian Review Board, which provides valuable input about the fairness and diligence of the investigation process. Ultimately, the goal of the Civilian Review Board is to make the system of police accountability more transparent and increase public confidence in the manner that police conduct their work.

Staff

Mark Gissiner, Police Auditor – started as Eugene Police Auditor in June 2009. He brings approximately 30 years of experience and consulting in the field of external oversight of law enforcement.

In his career with Cincinnati, Mr. Gissiner served in the City Manager’s Office as Director and Investigator of the Office of Municipal Investigation (OMI) and worked in the Department of Human Resources. He helped develop Cincinnati’s Collaborative Agreement and the Memorandum of Understanding with the United States Department of Justice. Mr. Gissiner was the first two-term President of the International Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement (IACOLE). Mr. Gissiner’s writings on issues of government accountability, government reform and human rights have been published in 14 languages. He consulted for the United States Justice Department and governments including South Africa, Brazil, Northern Ireland, Portugal, Hungary, Australia, China, Hong Kong and Spain. He was a keynote speaker at the 50th Anniversary of the European Declaration of Human Rights in Evora, Portugal.

Leia Pitcher, Deputy Auditor – Leia Pitcher began working as the Deputy Police Auditor in November 2010. She came to Eugene in 2003 for law school, and after obtaining her J.D., she clerked at Division Two of the Washington Court of Appeals for two years before returning to Eugene to work in private practice. She currently serves as a member of the board for Oregon Research Institute’s Community and Evaluative Services.

Vicki Cox, Senior Program Coordinator – Ms. Cox has worked for the City of Eugene for 9 years, beginning in the City Manager’s Office as receptionist, the last 7 years as Administrator to the Police Auditor’s Office. Vicki is the front door to the Auditor’s office. She organizes all administrative functions, coordinates information flow to the civilian review board and the public, maintains files, data entry and is the first point of contact for complainants or others in need of services, including services not provided by the Auditor’s Office.

Executive Summary

This is the Office of the Independent Police Auditor's annual report to the City Council covering January 1, 2014 to December 31, 2014. For detailed information about all aspects of our office, please visit our website at: <http://www.eugene-or.gov/policeauditor>

The Office of the Independent Police Auditor (OPA) was established by charter amendment in 2005 to provide an external mechanism for the independent receipt, classification, and routing of complaints against sworn and non-sworn employees of the Eugene Police Department (EPD); contract for outside investigations when necessary; and provide monitoring of the EPD internal investigations of allegations of misconduct and supervisors' investigations of service complaints. The Charter Amendment also authorized the auditor to: make recommendations regarding adjudications, policies and training to the Police Chief; prepare reports concerning complaint trends and police practices; and act as a liaison and staff support for a civilian review board. The Police Auditor is hired and supervised by the Eugene City Council.

Eugene has an oversight system based on the parliamentary model of oversight, in which a professional and experienced police oversight auditor is employed by the legislative branch, the City Council. Under the "parliamentary model," a greater separation of powers occurs, which is healthy for the oversight process. To enhance the system, Council appoints a civilian review board which gives a community perspective on the police complaints process. This combination creates a sound structure for police accountability when implemented effectively, fairly and without bias. What I think takes some complainants by surprise is that what starts as a community member complaint, becomes, in fact, an administrative investigation where the focus turns to the conduct of the involved officer. This shift is confusing to some as there is sometimes an expectation that the Auditor's office will be an advocate. This further emphasizes the need for all systems to be effective and vigorous, including but not limited to, attorneys, the courts, ACLU and other advocacy groups.

We intake all complaints against police employees, including complaints generated internally. We independently, impartially and thoroughly monitor the investigation process; identify ways to improve the complaint process; provide recommendations to the police chief and police commission on policies, training and trends; and provide staffing and counsel to the civilian review board on cases and policy issues. Our office monitors the overall integrity and fairness of the administrative investigative process, and in the course of such examination, reviews how citizen complaints are investigated and resolved.

Ordinance 20374, which enables Eugene's Civilian Review Board, requires the Board to "...prepare and present an annual report to the city council that:

- (a) Summarizes the civilian review board's activities, findings and recommendations during the preceding year;
- (b) Assesses the performance of the police auditor...; and,
- (c) Evaluates the work of the auditor's office, including whether the office is functioning as intended." [ORD 20374; 2.246 (7)]

Eugene's Civilian Review Board (CRB) is designed to provide transparency and help ensure public confidence in the police complaint process. The Board evaluates the work of the independent Police Auditor, and reviews complaints to provide a community perspective about whether complaints are handled fairly and with due diligence. Their annual report will also be available on the Police Auditor's website at: <http://www.eugene-or.gov/policeauditor>

2014 was another year of increase (nearly 7%) in the number of complaints our office received and monitored. In the past five years, our complaints have increased by 30%. The oversight process continues to grow and mature; 2014 was marked by continued improvements in the quality of investigations, improvements in EPD policies, increased expectations of EPD supervisors (especially regarding use of force), clearer performance expectations for EPD employees, and continued incremental progress in documenting demographic characteristics of arrests, citations and detentions.

The Auditor's Office and Civilian Review Board (CRB) were constructed primarily as a citizen complaint based model based on single incidents. While there is a brief portion of the legislation and protocols that gives the Auditor some latitude to initiate a complaint, the primary focus is on citizen complaints. However, internal complaints have increased substantially over the past few years (detailed statistics are below), and 2014 was the first year in which our office was not compelled to initiate a complaint.

The CRB membership is stable and provides a thoughtful and candid discussion. CRB members are a mix of community members dedicated to improving policing in the community and gaining community trust. The CRB held nine meetings in 2014, including one joint meeting with the Police Commission. Case reviews involved a significant width of issues; whether based on the conduct of individual officers or those that had significant policy implications. Regrettably, much of the general public does not take the opportunity to attend these meetings.

Leia Pitcher and Vicki Cox provide extraordinary customer service and efficiency in working to achieve our mandate. We remain pressed in our activities as we manage over 400 complaints a year. Few oversight organizations in the United States receive as many complaints per capita as our office; demonstrating the expectations of our community and the knowledge of our activities in the community. (For example, San Jose, with a population of nearly one million, received 340 complaints. Cincinnati, with a very similar oversight model as Eugene, received 320.)

This year our complaints rose by nearly 7%. This has a significant impact on our work, as the cornerstone of our model is the intake of complaints outside of the police process. Our classifications of complaints as allegations continued to decrease. There are a number of variables that caused this to occur, including, but not limited to more investigative work done by the Auditor's office at the earliest stages of a complaint. This is accomplished because of the continued improvement in ICV hardware and software, and greater accountability for using ICV. Blue Team, body cameras and the new Records Management System (RMS) have provided the opportunity to "cover more ground" early on in the complaint process so as not to prematurely classify complaints as allegations.

We have noticed as we review allegation investigations that the depth and breadth – and overall quality of the investigations has expanded and improved. Allegations are those cases which are investigated by the Internal Affairs Section of EPD and usually require far more comprehensive investigations and time. The balance of complaints (called service complaints, policy complaints and inquiries), are handled through an alternate dispute resolution (ADR) process; most often with supervisors discussing these issues with the reporting parties and involved employees. Inquiries are most often requested by the Auditor as a fact finding tool to determine how a complaint should be classified. At times, this process has concluded that, in fact, there is no basis for a complaint.

Intake Processes and Accomplishments: The Auditor's Office was constructed primarily as a citizen complaint-based model. While there is a brief portion of the legislation and protocols that gives the Auditor some latitude to initiate a complaint, the primary focus is on citizen complaints. A complaint process under this design has the potential to leave gaps, unless our office and EPD are willing to generate complaints as well. I believe that these gaps are closing as a result of improved supervisory efforts in EPD utilizing Blue Team, technology upgrades to the data tracking system, and open and honest communication between EPD's command staff, the EPD Office of Professional Standards, and our office regarding individual behavior issues, systemic enhancements and policy weaknesses.

We remain pressed in our activities as we managed 425 complaints in 2014 (a 7% increase) for approximately 179 sworn officers. (For comparison purposes, Boise, population 210,000, with 312 sworn officers, audited 210 investigations and monitored an addition 49 citizen complaints.) Anecdotally, an increasing portion of the population we serve appears to be suffering from a mental health crisis. The intersection of how EPD and our office interact with this portion of the population is an area of increased focus for our office in the coming years.

We spend hours working with complainants to navigate and understand the complaint process; and assist them in understanding the roles of the courts, their attorneys and how their roles differ from the auditor's office. Returned survey data indicates a high satisfaction level with the customer service provided by the Auditor's office.

We also saw a continued significant increase in internally generated investigations and complaints (from 11% of our total complaints in 2013 to 16% of total complaints in 2014). I believe this is indicative of the oversight process, at least to some degree, bringing EPD supervisory expectations to a higher level through reporting of incidents, including uses of force. If the Auditor or EPD command staff review a report in Blue Team and identify potential performance issues or policy violations, an investigation is initiated.

We also frequently receive complaints from people who receive traffic citations and appear or are scheduled for municipal court, who believe that the Auditor's office is an alternative to a judicial determination of guilt or innocence. Even with explanation, often the expectation remains that our role is as court advocate, rather than a neutral evaluator of police conduct within the context of police policies and procedures. We continue to work to correct this misperception and explain clearly to reporting parties our neutral role in the process.

While I believe that we generally succeed in ensuring our classifications are fair and neutral, some concerns are expressed about the classification of some cases. We hold EPD employees to high standards and probably identify cases as allegations where in many jurisdictions they may not reach the level of an allegation (such as use of pepper spray, pointing a Taser but not firing, which is considered a rather benign use of force in most policing jurisdictions). However, I believe that these classification standards are in line with community expectations and efforts to build community trust. We recognize and appreciate the impact of our decisions on reporting parties and their families, community, officers, their families and the other interested parties. We make these decisions with careful consideration based on our experience, training and policy evaluations, with recognition that our decisions are not always going to please others.

The service complaints, policy complaints and inquiries are handled through an alternate dispute resolution process, as stated above; most often with supervisors discussing these issues with the complainants and officers. The satisfaction rate for this process, based on returned surveys, is almost 70%. In the “industry” of civilian oversight of police, this is an excellent resolution measure.

Investigations: The quality of internal investigations continues to improve and meet expectations. The current Internal Affairs investigators, supervisor, and staff accept the role of our office; we work to maintain a collaborative relationship and endeavor to make every investigation clear, unbiased, and sound. During 2014, both Internal Affairs Investigators had at least one year of experience (one investigator completed a two-year rotation in the position and elected to continue, bringing invaluable experience). In addition, the Internal Affairs supervisor had completed two year of service in the position, gaining valuable experience and insight into the process. EPD also added a full-time sergeant to aid in policy writing in implementation in 2013. That person significantly improved the speed and quality of the policy revision process, as well as adeptly handling several policy complaints and inquiries.

Some allegations of criminal conduct are turned over to an outside agency, to avoid any perceptions of bias or favoritism. Many have returned for adjudication in the administrative process. I have found no evidence of interference with Internal Affairs investigators by command staff in fulfilling their duties of conducting a fair and objective investigation.

BlueTeam: – a software system that tracks uses of force, vehicle pursuits, property damage, and citizen complaints (among others) – has had a significant impact on transparency between our office and EPD. It has been online for about two and a half years, and the changes are remarkable. With EPD command staff agreeing that full access for my office is important for the success of Blue Team, we are now able to look at all uses of force within 24 hours of their occurrence. We were able to issue a Use of Force Report for 2013 and will do so as soon as practicable for 2014.

With our current system we have identified those officers with the highest number of complaint involvement. The best measure in these circumstances is a sustained rate; however, a higher complaint rate does generate supervisory review as discussed at the weekly Auditor’s Office/EPD Internal Affairs/EPD command staff meeting. Several past and current investigations are identifying sworn and non-sworn employees who have exhibited a pattern of policy violations.

Communications: We work to foster positive and constructive relationships and partnerships with Council through monthly meetings with the Mayor, Council President and Council Vice-President, respectively; in addition to written and oral reports to Council. Beyond the public civilian review board member meetings, we have reached out by attending various community meetings and neighborhood association meetings. Mark issued a Community Engagement Strategy that our office and the CRB are working to implement. Absent hot button issues, given the broad range of community issues in Eugene, we do not stand out above other city issues. We engaged in a community forum on race and criminal justice, held a joint meeting between the CRB and the Police Commission, and we are working with the Human Rights Commission staff about coordinating more community activities. We spoke at neighborhood meetings and meet as often as possible with leaders in groups that advocate for community members. We plan to work with the staff of the City’s Human Rights and Equity Office to create a position for a Community Engagement Coordinator. It is becoming an industry best practice for oversight agencies to employ such a coordinator, and the complaint load at our office largely monopolizes current staff time.

The customer service aspect of our responsibilities consumes a significant portion of our workload. Identifying and advocating for structural changes in EPD policies, supervision and police interactions has continued to be a priority for us. We have had discussions with other agencies to pool our resources to better expose the community to the work of the Police Commission, Human Rights Commission and the Civilian Review Board. We created new brochures as well as descriptive handouts related to each of the classification categories to better inform customers of the complaint process. All of these new documents have been translated into Spanish. We are working with the Human Rights Commission to organize community forums with emphasis on the needs of the Latino community.

Again this year, we spent considerable time with individuals apparently suffering temporary or permanent mental health crisis. Mark continues to advocate for greater attention to this matter in his work as a member of the Oregon League of Cities Intergovernmental Committee. In addition, our office supports and will continue to advocate for EPD to better track its interactions with people apparently suffering from mental illness. Such tracking would provide valuable information to the community and government regarding use of police resources. As the Police Commission plans to work on EPD's Mental Health Crisis response policy during the 2015-2016 FY, this seems to be an opportune time to amend the policy to include tracking and response.

Performance and Policy Impact: For EPD, of the 24 cases that were opened as allegations, 79% resulted in a sustained allegation (more details follow below). For comparison purposes, Cincinnati had a sustained rate of 10%, Boise – 14%, Seattle – 16%, and San Jose – 5%.

We (Auditor and CRB) have advocated, with varying degrees of success, for policy improvements in search and seizure, canine use, vehicle pursuit, Brady issues, use of force, response to people in mental health crisis, and response to unusual behavior by arrested subjects. With a full time policy analyst in the office of Professional Standards, policy changes and additions were finalized for the following 28 policies:

- Use of Force; Flexible Restraint Device; Carotid Restraint; Handcuffing, Control Holds, and Impact Weapons; Spit Hoods; Edged Weapons
- Deadly Force Investigations; Department Firearms
- Vehicle Pursuits
- Search and Seizure; Searches and Inventories of Detained Persons
- Prohibited Camping Enforcement
- Officer Response to Calls
- Domestic Violence and Restraining Orders; Law Enforcement Employee Domestic Violence
- Citations in Lieu of Custody
- Prisoner Transports; Jail Van Operations
- Vehicle Tows and Inventories
- Special Weapons and Tactics; Explosive Disposal Unit
- Crime Analysis Unit
- Evidence and Property Handling
- Personnel Complaints (IA)
- Workplace harassment
- Fiscal Management, Criminal Justice Information Systems, Department Training,

Having a sergeant working full-time on policy has meant an incredible improvement in the speed, efficacy, and quality of EPD policy revisions and updates. We are providing commentary to EPD and the community on new policies and data collection to determine the scope of bias-based policing issues. It is a monumental task but one that I am certain will be of great benefit to the community.

Other Accomplishments: We returned budgeted funds to the general fund although diminishing due to City cutbacks; provided staff support and training initiatives to the CRB; spent many hours assisting community members with problems unrelated to police officers; attended public meetings in the community; published a weekly newsletter and a thorough and transparent annual report that captures the work of our office.

Throughout the reporting period we maintained contact with the public through our website, holding meetings with key stakeholders and the general public, conducting interviews with print and TV media, participation in public forums and on panels, attendance at civilian oversight conferences, and a great source of weekly activities our newsletter. We continue to work with the Human Rights Commission to outreach to the Latino community about our services. This is an area that requires growth.

Reflection: In 2003 Dr. Sam Walker, formerly of the University of Nebraska and arguably one of the top experts in the nation on police oversight wrote a paper and chaired a conference on the “Core Principles for an Effective Police Auditor’s Office.” I believe we are meeting these standards. Key points were:

INDEPENDENCE

- A police auditor’s office must be fully independent of the law enforcement agency under its jurisdiction.
- Specific language in the enabling ordinance must indicate that an auditor may be removed from office only for cause and through a clearly defined removal process.

CLEARLY DEFINED SCOPE OF RESPONSIBILITIES

- The scope of the responsibilities of a police auditor’s office must be clearly defined by ordinance (or contract).
- Specific language, for example, must define the auditor’s responsibility to audit complaint files, have unfettered access to all relevant records and reports, to make policy recommendations, to issue public reports, to investigate individual critical incidents....

ADEQUATE RESOURCES

- A police auditor’s office must have adequate resources to ensure that all duties can be conducted effectively and efficiently....

UNFETTERED ACCESS

- A police auditor must have unfettered access to all documents and data in the law enforcement agency. This unfettered access must be spelled out in the enabling ordinance. The only exception to this rule would be files related to an on-going criminal investigation.
- All documents must be provided to the police auditor without charge to the auditor’s office.

FULL COOPERATION

- A police auditor must have the full cooperation of all employees of the law enforcement agency under its jurisdiction.
- All employees, including sworn officers, shall cooperate as a condition of their employment.

- With respect to potential self-incrimination, the standards defined in Garrity v. New Jersey shall prevail.

SANCTIONS FOR FAILURE TO COOPERATE

- [There must be] sanctions for failure to cooperate with the work of an auditor on the part of the law enforcement agency employee.

PUBLIC REPORTS

- A police auditor must issue periodic public reports.
- Such public reports shall be issued at least once a year and, ideally, more frequently.

NO PRIOR CENSORSHIP BY THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

- Reports by the police auditor shall not be subject to prior censorship by the law enforcement agency.
- A police auditor may reject any and all demands by the law enforcement agency to see draft copies of public reports.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

- A police auditor must have the benefit of community involvement and input.
- Community involvement and input can best be achieved through an advisory board consisting of members who represent the diverse composition of the local population.

CONFIDENTIALITY / ANONYMITY

- The work of a police auditor must respect the confidentiality of public employees as defined in the applicable state statute....In the interests of enhancing public understanding, a police auditor may report on specific incidents with personal identifiers removed without violating standards of confidentiality.

ACCESS TO THE POLICE CHIEF

- A police auditor must have direct access to the chief executive of the law enforcement agency under its jurisdiction. Upon request, a police chief or sheriff must agree to meet with the police auditor. It is understood that a chief executive may decline to meet in the case of an unreasonable number of such requests. Failure to meet with a police auditor for a period of one year shall be considered unsatisfactory performance on the part of a chief executive and be taken into consideration in performance review.

NO RETALIATION

- The enabling ordinance of an auditor's office must specify that there shall be no retaliation against the auditor for work done as a part of the auditor's responsibilities, including statements made in public reports.

Progress and Results for 2014 – 2015 Goals

1. Finalize community engagement strategy and implement the strategy.
 - a. The community engagement strategy was adopted in the latter half of 2014. We are working to implement the strategy, as noted above. We also plan to work with the City's Equity and Human Rights Office to staff a full-time Community Engagement Coordinator.

2. Rather than the Auditor being a complainant on any case, particularly a major case, that the complainant is EPD when not a citizen complaint.
 - a. We were successful in this; the Auditor's office was not listed as a reporting party/complainant on any 2014 complaint.
3. Have CRB review more classification decisions.
 - a. The CRB reviewed service complaints, policy complaints, and inquiries at its public meeting in June 2014. In addition, those complaint files have been made available to CRB members, some of whom have taken the opportunity to view the files and offer insight into the classification decisions.
4. See through to implementation the new data tracking system for all arrests, citations and detentions during police stops. This is a major project that will have great benefit to the community.
 - a. This policy has been approved; however, the software update and actual implementation of the tracking program have lagged and are not yet fully operational. We will continue on this area, as it is one of great importance to our community.
5. Continue with the goals set forth in previous years:
 - a. Work with the Police Commission, Human Rights Commission and Municipal Court and partner with community agencies to broaden the understanding of the services provided in each venue and how those services interact with police actions, particularly with segments of the community in which English is not a first language.
 - i. Progress is ongoing. As stated above, Mark composed a community engagement strategy that our office is in the process of implementing. As complaints continued to increase significantly in 2014, our office was focused on responding and monitoring those complaints, but we anticipate full implementation of the community engagement strategy in 2015-2016.
 - b. Promote constitutional – based policing as the foundation for law enforcement in Eugene.
 - i. EPD's new policy governing professional contacts will, when it is implemented, begin to provide meaningful data regarding bias in policing. We continue to urge EPD to effectuate that policy to align with best practices.
 - ii. We are also working with EPD to shift towards legitimacy in policing – that is, re-directing sworn employees away from strictly law enforcement and more towards community building. In many cases, it may be perfectly legal and acceptable for an employee to take enforcement action, but that enforcement action may not actually confer a benefit to the community.
 - iii. This initiative is taking place in EPD and also through the effort toward quantifying any biases in policing through data collection and analysis.
 - c. Identify and evaluate weaknesses in high risk policies and practices.
 - i. Numerous changes have occurred in policies with the recommendations of our office receiving serious consideration by EPD – specifically, we have been very impressed with the effect a new vehicle high speed pursuit policy has had, with pursuits down 76% in 2014.

- d. Ensure that supervisors are meeting their Blue Team responsibilities. Conduct trend analysis based on Blue Team data.
 - i. The Auditor's office issued a Use of Force Report in early 2015 that was composed using data from BlueTeam. We have been impressed by the level of transparency and access provided by the program and its implementation.
- e. Maintain the outstanding performance of staff and the CRB.
 - i. We continue to provide excellent customer service, as evidenced by our returned survey data. We also continue to be impressed with the valuable, insightful review offered by the CRB.
6. Maintain the "Core Principles for an Effective Police Auditor's Office" as written by Dr. Sam Walker, one of the leading civilian oversight experts in the U.S.
 - a. This remains a consistent area of focus for our office.

Goals for 2015 – 2016

We have identified the following focus areas for 2015 and 2016 but the primary focus needs to be on the tracking of stops to determine if individual or systemic patterns of bias are occurring:

1. Collaborate with EPD Internal Affairs and Professional Standards staff to create and implement a new classification system that more accurately classifies, routes, and tracks complaints.
2. Continue with implementation of community engagement strategy.
3. Work with EPD to ensure policies are up to date and comport with best practices, including policies surrounding sexual assault investigations and bias policing.
4. Provide excellent customer service to both internal and external reporting parties; work to provide clear, concise, and timely response to complaints.
5. Work with EPD to create and implement system to track encounters, both positive and negative, with people apparently suffering from a mental health crisis, including PTSD and our veteran population.

Primary Challenges for 2015 – 2016

1. The Interdepartmental Deadly Force Investigative Team (IDFIT) model, since my arrival in Eugene in 2009, inadequately investigates officer involved shootings (OIS) from an administrative standpoint. It is not my mandate to comment on the criminal investigation portion. It needs to change, whether internally through EPD or re-structured. It does not meet with the administrative standards I expect. The most important and controversial issue facing a police department is an officer involved shooting. It is critical that the best of the best lead incident command, organize and supervise functions, investigate and conduct forensic analysis under the watchful eyes of the Police Auditor's office.
2. Constitutional stops and detentions remain an issue in my mind. On occasion, community members are being involuntarily detained without reasonable suspicion or probable cause. It should never happen with proper training and supervision. This merges with our previous discussion about having a bias-free relationship between police and the community.

3. The role of officers to report incidents to supervisors remains unclear. I appreciate that officers are given a tremendous amount of discretion daily in their jobs. They have the power to take away freedom and in deadly force situations, lives. At the same time, there needs to be the knowledge base to recognize that what an employee may see or do, needs to be brought to the attention of a supervisor for resolution.

Related EPD Data

Calls for service in 2014 decreased slightly from 2013 (down to 123,157 from 126,552 – a decrease of 2.7%). This is equivalent to an average of 337.4 calls per day, or about 14 per hour).

Year	Total Calls for Service
2014	123,157
2013	126,552
2012	114,500
2011	104,660
2010	97,277
2009	98,796

In 2014, EPD implemented a new records system and changed the way they internally track data related to arrests/charges. Thus, comparisons between 2014 and previous years related to arrests, citations, and charges are not feasible. In 2014, EPD recorded 12,254 misdemeanor citations. They also created 9,614 cases in 2014, which resulted in 17,517 charges filed. Eugene has an estimated population of 159,190; the rate of charge per capita was therefore approximately 0.110.

EPD began tracking uses of force using BlueTeam on April 15, 2013. Our office issued a Use of Force report, focused on reported uses of force in 2013, earlier this calendar year. We plan to release another Use of Force report, based on 2014 data, later this year. Preliminary data shows that EPD engaged in 197 reportable uses of force in 2014, including 74 Taser displays and 42 uses of the Taser.

2014 Complaint Statistics

The Auditor's Office received 425 complaints in 2014, which represented a 6.8% increase from the 398 complaints we received in 2013. Service complaints and inquiries again constituted the vast majority of the complaints (35% and 47.5%, respectively).

Classification	Number of Complaints
Allegation of Criminal Conduct	3
Allegation of Misconduct	24
Inquiry	202
Policy Complaint	47
Service Complaint	149

Allegations decreased in 2014, with 24 during the year compared to 32 in 2013. Inquiries continued to increase, with 202 in 2014 compared to 151 in 2013 (an increase of 34%). Policy complaints also increased in 2014 (from 39 to 47, an increase of 21%).

We received a fairly steady average of 35.4 complaints per month in 2014, with a spike of 46 complaints in September and a low of 28 complaints in January. The average of 35.4 complaints per month constituted a 6.8% increase over 2013's average of 33.2 complaints per month.

Data from the past five years shows that we generally have more complaints in March and the warmer months. Complaints are generally decreased November – January.

Most of our complaints are received by phone (207 complaints, or 48% of our total). 2014 continued to see an increase in internally reported complaints, from 23 in 2012 (7% of total complaints) to 45 in 2013 (11% of complaints), to 68 in 2014 (16% of complaints). Our walk-in rate remained steady compared to 2013, with 51 in each year (13% of the 2013 total and 12% of the 2014 total).

The telephone has consistently been the most common way for us to receive complaints. Methods such as referrals from the Equity and Human Rights office, submissions of EPD’s “Tell Us About It” (TUAL) form, fax, referrals from the City’s Public Service Officer, and submission of risk claim forms, have remained consistently low over the years.

Internal complaints have increased greatly over the years; internally reported complaints consisted of 2-4% of the total complaints in 2008-2010, but they consisted of 16% of the complaints received in 2014. Auditor-initiated complaints have remained steady at about 1% of total complaints. The percent of complaints received via walk-ins or our complaint form has remained fairly consistent over the years, hovering around 15% and 5%, respectively. In 2014, we received 5 complaints via various social media platforms, accounting for 1% of complaints received. 351 of the 425 complaints we received in 2014 were from community members.

Complaints were distributed among 159 employees; 40% of those employees (64 employees) had only one complaint levied against them. Three employees had 9 complaints, another three employees had 8 complaints, and 5 employees had 7 complaints.

* Please note, some complaints name more than one employee.

Our office is the intake point for complaints for all employees of EPD, including sworn and non-sworn employees (a total of 291.25 FTE, as of May 2015). The 159 employees with complaints represent 54.6% of the employees at EPD.

The distribution of sustained allegations of misconduct among employees, as opposed to complaints (which may be unfounded) is addressed below.

Dismissals

Of the 425 complaints received in 2014, 57 were dismissed (13.4%). Only 5 were dismissed for a lack of timeliness (1.2%) – a decrease from 2013 – which may indicate that members of the community who wish to file a complaint know about our office (and therefore file the complaint in a timely manner). No allegations of criminal conduct or allegations of misconduct were dismissed in 2014.

Similar to 2013, inquiries were dismissed far more than other classifications of complaints. This reflects our thorough preliminary investigations – often, a complaint will be classified as an inquiry while we perform a preliminary investigation. The additional information gained in that investigation may allow us to dismiss a complaint where appropriate. Often, in-car video (ICV) is included as part of the preliminary investigation; where it is clear from the video that the involved employee followed policy, the complaint may be dismissed (these would fall under the category of dismissed-Other, above). This practice is discussed in further detail below.

Allegations

A complaint is classified as an allegation if it alleges serious misconduct. There are two main categories of allegations: allegations of criminal conduct (where the actions alleged, if found to be true, would constitute criminal conduct by an employee) or allegations of misconduct (where the actions alleged constitute a major rules violation, including excessive force that causes physical injury or egregious acts of disparate treatment).

Criminal Conduct

The Auditor’s office received 3 complaints in 2014 that were classified as allegations of criminal conduct; this was a sharp decrease from the 11 complaints of criminal conduct in 2013. The 3 complaints included 47 separate allegations of violations of policy (44 were included in one complaint).

Table 2. 2014 Specific Allegations of Criminal Misconduct

	# of Allegations	Sustained	Pending	Resigned during Investigation
Conformance to Laws	23	1	0	22
Conformance to Laws – Failure to Report	1	1	0	0
Unbecoming Conduct	22	0	0	22
Use of Force	1	0	1	0
Totals	47	2	1	44

The sustained allegations were from the same incident; an employee received a DUI and failed to immediately report the incident to the EPD chain of command as required by policy.

As stated above, 44 separate allegations (22 allegations that the employee failed to conform to laws, and 22 allegations that the employee engaged in unbecoming conduct) were included in one complaint against one employee. That employee resigned during the investigation.

In the final complaint of criminal conduct, the criminal investigation is still pending and will not be commented upon in detail here. When the investigative process is complete, a summary will be included in the Police Auditor’s Weekly Update.

Misconduct

In 2014, the Auditor’s office received 24 complaints (from both internal and external sources) alleging serious misconduct. Most allegations were related to issues of unsatisfactory performance; we also received allegations related to conduct, use of force, and constitutional rights. Allegations of misconduct are investigated by Internal Affairs sergeants, and the Auditor’s office participates in and oversees those investigations. The 24 complaints alleging serious misconduct included _____ specific alleged policy violations by EPD employees.

* In the graph above, only the primary allegation is indicated.

19 of the 24 complaints were sustained – about 79% of the complaints. This is an increase from previous years: our sustained rate in 2013 was 44%, 29% in 2012, and 30% in 2011. Three complaints were found to be within policy, and two allegation investigations are still pending. No allegations of misconduct were dismissed. This is likely a further reflection of our preliminary investigations and classification processes.

The following table and graph illustrate in further detail the types of allegations we received in 2014 and their outcomes (instead of addressing only the primary allegation). The primary allegation is designated within the Internal Affairs database that we share with EPD, using the primary of what may be several allegations against several officers.

2014 Specific Allegations and Disposition

The most common specific policy violation alleged was unsatisfactory performance, with 17 allegations (12 sustained). Most of these allegations were externally reported (10 allegations). In addition, we received 7 complaints regarding use of force (5 externally reported, 2 internally reported – one instance was actually self-reported by the involved employee).

Unsatisfactory performance was also the most commonly sustained allegations, with 12 sustained performance allegations. Five allegations of poor judgment were sustained, as well as three each for courtesy violations, insubordination, and violation of the vehicle pursuit policy.

Discipline for specific sustained allegations varied. The purview of our office is limited to the investigatory process; we are excluded from commenting on discipline of EPD employees. However, in the interests of transparency, discipline information is provided below.

Allegations were distributed among 20 employees, or 6.9% of EPD employees. One employee had six specific sustained allegations, another had five, and another had 4. Ten other employees had two sustained allegations each, and another 7 employees had one sustained allegation.

Inquiries

Inquiries, service complaints, and policy complaints are handled in a different manner than allegations of criminal conduct or misconduct. A complaint may be classified as an inquiry where it involves a “question about the propriety of an employee’s actions or a department policy, procedure, or regulation in a manner which indicates dissatisfaction, but which does not necessarily constitute or imply an allegation of misconduct.” EPD Police Operations Manual (POM) 1102-3, Part I.A.1. An inquiry may be investigated by a supervisor, Internal Affairs sergeant, or the Internal Affairs coordinator, as appropriate. The Auditor’s Office is kept informed regarding the progress of inquiries and will contact the reporting party with a resolution.

Inquiries have steadily increased since 2012 (from 93 in 2012 to 151 in 2013 to 202 in 2014, an increase of over 100% over the past two years). This is likely related to our evolving classification process; our office has continued to focus on improving preliminary investigations of complaints, and often complaints are classified as inquiries until the preliminary investigation has developed. Often, inquiries will be reclassified to allegations, service complaints, or policy complaints depending on what is discovered in the preliminary investigation.

This theory is supported by the sharp decrease in dismissed allegations over the past few years. In 2011, 15 specific allegations of misconduct (from several different complaints) were dismissed for various reasons. In 2012, only 2 specific allegations were dismissed; in 2013, only 1 specific allegation was dismissed; and in 2014, we did not dismiss any allegations.

A little over 75% of inquiries are reviewed and/or resolved, either by EPD supervisors or the Auditor’s Office. 45 inquiries were dismissed for various reasons, as shown below.

Service Complaints

Service complaints are complaints “about police employee performance or demeanor, customer service and/or level of police service.” E.C.C. § 2.452. Generally, service complaints are referred to the supervisor of the involved officer(s) for follow up with both the complainant and the involved officer(s). The supervisor will write a memo detailing their review of the complaint and contact with the involved parties, which the Auditor’s Office reviews for completeness and thoroughness. The Auditor’s Office then contacts the complaining party for a follow up survey.

2014 Service Complaints by Sub-Classification

As in previous years, the majority of service complaints were related to performance or courtesy. We saw a slight increase in courtesy complaints, with 47 in 2014 compared to 39 in 2013. Service complaints related to performance decreased over the past year, with 90 in 2014, a decrease of about 18% from the 110 received in 2013.

Service Complaints by Sub-Classification, 2009 - 2014

Policy Complaints

Complaints are classified as policy complaints where the complainant “is dissatisfied with current policies or established procedures.” Civilian Oversight Protocols, Classification of Complaints 1.d. These complaints are referred to either a supervisor (where appropriate) or an Internal Affairs sergeant. For example, a policy complaint may be investigated by a supervisor where a particular officer, division, or program is the focus of the complaint. Similar to a service complaint, the investigator will contact the complainant, as well as any involved officer(s), and write a memo detailing their resolution of the complaint. The Auditor’s office reviews the memo and follows up with the complaining party.

Policy complaints increased again in 2014; we received 47 policy complaints in 2014 as compared to 39 in 2013 (an increase of about 20%). Policy complaints also constituted more of our overall complaints in 2014: 11% of the 425 complaints we received in 2014 were policy complaints, compared to 9.7% in 2013.

Inquiry/Service Complaint/Policy Complaint Surveys

In 2014, we received 56 returned surveys. This survey is sent at the close of each inquiry, service complaint, and policy complaint unless (1) the complaint was internally generated, (2) the complaint was generated by our office, or (3) the reporting party indicated that they did not want to be contacted or provided insufficient contact information. Our office sends a different survey form for reporting parties of complaints classified as allegations, but we did not receive any returned allegation surveys in 2014. We sent out approximately 350 Inquiry/policy complaint/service complaint surveys in 2014, for a response rate of about 16%.

The questions on the surveys are as follows:

- 1) Staff member(s) at the Office of the Police Auditor was/were helpful in taking my complaint.
- 2) Were you contacted by the EPD employee's supervisor?
- 3) If yes to #2, my concerns were addressed by the supervisor.
- 4) The supervisor listened to my concerns.
- 5) I am satisfied with the outcome of the complaint investigation.
- 6) Would you have preferred to speak with the involved officer rather than the supervisor?

Questions #1, #3, #4, and #5 are answered with a ranking: Agree, Agree Somewhat, Disagree Somewhat, and Disagree. Question #2 is a yes or no question. We received 47 "Yes" answers (83.9%) and seven "No" answers. Upon review, the "No" answers were not entirely correct; the incidents occurred as follows:

- the respondent had spoken with the supervisor but would have preferred that the supervisor pay him for his trouble
- the supervisor confirmed with our office that contacting the respondent would likely jeopardize a related criminal investigation; our office therefore provided the follow-up in lieu of the EPD supervisor
- the supervisor was the person who initially received the complaint (which may have been the source of the respondent's confusion)
- the supervisor had spoken with the respondent; respondent answered negatively to every survey question and appeared disappointed with the overall process
- supervisor had spoken with respondent, but respondent was confused as to whether the person she spoke with was a supervisor
- supervisor's several voicemails were not returned by the respondent; our office contacted respondent with findings after receipt of the survey
- supervisor contacted respondent, but respondent was disappointed that another agency was responsible for the conduct leading to his complaint

Question #6 was added to the survey during 2011; it is a yes or no question and includes a space for comments. Of the 56 surveys that answered this question, 5 indicated that they would have liked to speak with the involved officer (whether in addition to or instead of speaking with the supervisor).

In 2014, 89% of respondents agreed or somewhat agreed that the Auditor’s Office was helpful in taking their complaint (Question 1). This is an increase from last year’s 86% and identical from 2011 (89%). Overall satisfaction increased slightly, from 61% in 2013 to 66% in 2014. The 66% overall satisfaction rate is our highest since we started recording survey data.

Vehicle Pursuits

Vehicle pursuits declined sharply in 2014. EPD only engaged in five vehicle pursuits in 2014, a decrease of 76%. Our office focused on working with EPD to institute a new vehicle pursuit policy that became effective in February 2014, and we are very pleased to see the decrease in the number of vehicle pursuits. In addition, 4 of the 5 pursuits lasted less than 1 mile (there was no data entered on the other pursuit).

Every vehicle pursuit is reviewed by EPD’s Emergency Vehicle Operations team and entered into the Internal Affairs database that our office shares with EPD. If either the EPD EVOC team, the EPD chain of command, or our office identifies a concern with the pursuit, an administrative investigation, conducted by Internal Affairs and with the participation of our office, may be initiated. In 2014, none of the five pursuits were found to be justified or within EPD policy.

Vehicle Accidents

Vehicle accidents increased in 2014. EPD was involved in 60 vehicle accidents in 2014, an increase of 43% over the 42 accidents that occurred in 2013. Vehicle accidents are reviewed by the involved employee(s) supervisor and entered into the Internal Affairs database that is shared between our office and EPD. The supervisor determines whether the involved employee was at fault or not at fault. Of the 60 vehicle accidents in 2014, 32 (53%) were determined to be the fault of the involved EPD employee.

Approximately 41% (25) of the accidents were with fixed objects. Only three accidents (5%) were caused by the employee’s emergency response. Five of the accidents (9%) were intentional maneuvers by the EPD employee in an attempt to force another vehicle to stop (called a PIT maneuver).

Commendations

The Auditor’s Office and EPD continue to intake commendations, a total of 455 in 2014. This was a 20% increase from the 378 received in 2013.

Despite the nearly 7% increase in complaints in 2014, commendations again outnumbered complaints in 2014.

Community Impact Cases

The Auditor did not receive any complaints in 2014 that were designated as a community impact case.

Critical Incidents

There were no critical incidents in 2014, as defined in E.C.C. § 2.452 (“An occurrence involving a significant police action including, but not limited to, a civil disturbance or riot, an officer-involved shooting, or other action by a sworn police officer resulting in serious physical injury or death”).

Conclusion

We wish to also thank the outstanding volunteers for the Civilian Review Board, past and present, as well as members of the Police Commission and the Human Rights Commission. We truly appreciate the outstanding support provided by the Central Service Department for finances, information technology, budgets, human resources, payroll and other functions. The City Manager’s office, the City Attorney’s office, and the Eugene Police Department have all been helpful in assisting the Auditor’s Office accomplish its core function and goals. Finally, we wish to thank the Mayor and City Councilors for having patience and taking the time and energy to be effectively involved in the evolution of the civilian oversight process in Eugene.

Adjudication recommendations are: Sustained = the complainant's allegation(s) was determined to be a violation of EPD policies, rules and/or procedures and, the employee(s) Sustained (S), Insufficient Evidence(IE), Unfounded (UF), and Within Policy (WP). Those terms are defined in Eugene's Civilian Oversight Protocols (2007):

Sustained = the complainant's allegation(s) was determined to be a violation of EPD policies, rules and/or procedures and, the employee(s) involved committed the violation(s) as alleged.

Insufficient Evidence = The chain of command was unable to determine whether or not a violation of EPD policies, rules, and/or procedures occurred.

Unfounded = The claim is unsubstantiated - it was determined that the employee(s) involved did not engage in the behavior as alleged by the complainant.

Within Policy = It was determined that the behavior of the employee(s) involved did occur but was consistent with EPD policies, rules, practices and/or procedures.

* Indicates that the Auditor's Office reviewed the investigation and conferred with EPD Chain of Command/EPD Chief but declined to write an adjudication memo.

 Indicates the recommended adjudication from the highest ranking reviewer - in some cases, direct supervisor's recommendation may have been different.

 Total time in Police Auditor's Office - from intake to adjudication (does not include time to notify employee, discipline, and close file).

2014 Service Complaints, Policy Complaints, and Inquiries

Received Date	Closed Date	Time Open (days)	Classification	Summary	Outcome
1/2/2014	1/28/2014	26	Inquiry	RP was concerned about the way an assault against him was handled by an EPD Officer. RP alleged he was handcuffed, not allowed access to EMTs and his home searched even when he denied consent.	Sgt. learned officers were dispatched to a possible gun shot victim and observed a unoccupied running vehicle with a metal object on the ground and a blood trail leading to an apartment. Witnesses verified a dispute with the occupants had occurred. RP and his girlfriend exited the apartment as asked and a search was conducted to assure there were no other injured subjects. RP was evaluated by medics and transported to the hospital. Further investigations were conducted by EPD officers. Sgt. spoke with RP the sequence of events and his findings.
1/3/2014	1/28/2014	25	Service/ Performance	RP alleged that an officer failed to conduct a competent investigation of an assault 2 in which he was the victim.	Sgt. verified the findings of the officer's report and classification of the crime and spoke with RP about his findings.
1/6/2014	1/28/2014	22	Service/ Performance	RP alleged that officers would not cite or arrest a neighbor who had trespassed on his property telling him it was not worth the trouble because he would be out in 5 hours.	Sgt. learned that RP and his neighbor have a lengthy dispute going in which they call police but then can not provide evidence of for the allegations. Officers in this incident while not arresting any one filed a well documented report. Sgt. spoke with RP about her findings.
1-7-2014	2/14/2014	38	Service/ Performance	RP was upset that officers have returned twice to her mother-in-laws home looking for her son.	Sgt. learned that officer had developed information that the location the son was living, a warrant was on file for the son, so no policy violation was found. RP's phone was disconnected and could not be reached to discuss the incident.
1/4/2014	1/29/2014	25	Policy	RP was upset that when she complained about an upstairs neighbor dropping heavy objects on his floor and no one responded.	Supervisor found that the call had been entered but because of priority call volume the information was relayed to the beat officers as beat information. Supervisor spoke with RP who relayed that her neighbor had spoken with an officer and between that and her landlord the situation was resolved.
1/7/2014	1/23/2014	16	Inquiry	RP was upset that officers searched his home after he called the non emergency line for mental health issues. Officers confiscated his gun and cited him for an illegal discharge.	Sgt. spoke with RP about the issues involved in his contact with officers and the confiscation of the gun was due to it being evidence of a crime.
1/7/2014	1/23/2014	16	Inquiry	RP was concerned about an incident in which she was assaulted by relatives of her friend. RP felt pressured by the officer not to press charges and later learned she had a concussion.	Sgt found that at the time of the incident officers were unable to discern who the primary aggressors were or if it was mutual combat. Sgt. spoke with RP who now wanted to press charges, an officer was dispatched to take a report.

Received Date	Closed Date	Time Open (days)	Classification	Summary	Outcome
1/7/2014	1/15/2014	8	Inquiry Dismissed: Outside Jurisdiction	RP reported a SUV he believed was an EPD vehicle run a red light.	Dismissed: Outside Jurisdiction Not EPD.
1/5/2014	2/5/2014	30	Inquiry	RP told supervisors that he was unhappy with how arresting officers handled his arrest.	Several attempts to contact were made with no return contact from RP. Complaint closed pending further contact from RP.
1/9/2014	2/10/2014	31	Service/ Performance	RP was upset that nothing was being done about the illegal camping in his neighborhood.	Sgt. spoke with RP about the procedures in place to deal with illegal camping. Sgt. also gave a 24 hours notice to the camper.
1/8/2014	2/10/2014	32	Service/ Performance	RPs were concerned that an officer did not take the time to investigate or even file a report about an altercation they were involved in on New Years Eve in the downtown area.	Lt. researched the incident and spoke with witness officers and found two issues: no report was taken and participants were not identified. Body cams were not turned on by officers. RPs have not made themselves available to Lt for feed back on their concern.
1/9/2014	1/22/2014	13	Inquiry	RP was upset at the way officers handled an incident in which a neighbor pushed his way into his home and assaulted him. He feels officers did not hold this person responsible.	Sgt. learned that physical evidence did not support RP's report of the incident. Officer had been unable to discern who the primary aggressor was in the incident. A thorough report was taken and forwarded to the City Prosecutor to determine if enough information was available to prosecute. Sgt. spoke with RP about the findings.
1/10/2014	1/30/2014	20	Service/ Performance	RP was upset that when she was threatened with harm by the campers at "Whoville." An officer showed up across the street but did not contact her.	Sgt. spoke with the officers who responded and learn that RP refused to walk over to officers who then contacted her and spoke with RP and others in the camp.
1/10/2014	1/23/2014	13	Inquiry Dismissed: Alternative Remedy	RP felt that since officers could not cited an ORS on noise verbatim from the statute therefore he should not have been cited.	Dismissed: Alternate Remedy. Guilt of innocence determined by the court.
1/13/2014	2/14/2014	31	Inquiry	RP left a voicemail with the Auditor's upset that EPD was trying to return evidence from a 10 year old rape case that was never prosecuted and feels victimized again.	Lt. left voice message with RP apologizing for the contact. Lt also spoke with PCU about changing practices and procedures involving such type of evidence.
1/21/2014	1/28/2014	7	Inquiry Dismissed: Alternative Remedy	RP was upset that she was arrested for trespass while delivering presents.	Dismissed: Alternate Remedy: other agency.

1/23/2014	2/10/2014	17	Inquiry	Inquiry into the decision making process of an arrest during a U of O football game.	Sgt. interviewed officers involved in the situation and determined that various officers make the decision after consulting with one another.
1/27/2014	2/3/2014	6	Service/ Performance	RP was upset that he was not notified when his stolen vehicle was recovered and he incurred towing fees.	Sgt. found a miscommunication between agencies had happened and RP had not been called. He directed him to the Risk department to file a claim.
1/27/2014	3/17/2014	50	Inquiry	RP was upset that it took officers 2 hours to notify her when minor son was detained.	Sgt. reviewed the incident and the actions that officers took during the detention of RP's son and learned due to the amount of witnesses that were contacted and interviewed a delay in transporting the minor to Headquarters took place. Sgt. spoke with RP about the issue and policies involved in the incident.
1/20/2014	2/13/2014	23	Policy	RP tweeted his unhappiness with EPD for how long it took to have a police report taken about a stolen gun.	Sgt. spoke with RP about his concerns and explained dispatch requirement involving his situation and pawn shop reporting methods. Sgt. also explained his feed back would be used to analyze the current policy.
1/21/2014	2/12/2014	21	Inquiry	RP was upset that when his son's girlfriend was in an accident and ended up going to urgent care with a concussion EPD did not respond to the scene.	Sgt. found that fire and EMTs were first on the scene and were told by RP that she did not know if she was hurt. A tow truck was called and EMTs left the scene and because there was no injuries at the time called EPD to disregard as per policy. Sgt. spoke with RP about the incident and the policies involved.
1/21/2014	2/18/2014	27	Inquiry	RP was upset at the demeanor of on officer who came to his place of business investigating a vandalism issue nearby.	Sgt. reviewed police reports, ICV of incident and spoke RP about his concerns then with the involved officer about RP's concerns.
