ISSUE STATEMENT

The current size and configuration of the Cal Young Neighborhood Association (CYNA) presents significant challenges to organize, keep informed and sustain the participation of residents and property owners within the boundary. Neighbors are recommending boundaries be reconfigured, resulting in three associations: a smaller Cal Young Neighborhood Association and two new neighborhood associations: Northeast Neighbors (NEN) and Goodpasture Island Neighbors (GIN). The City Council is asked to formally recognize the new associations through adoption of their charter documents.

BACKGROUND

In February 2000, the City Council adopted guidelines for the size and configuration of neighborhood association boundaries. Key elements of the guidelines include:

- Size – No less than 300 units and no more than eight percent of total residential addresses within the City.
- Borders – Not to be divided by major natural or manmade barrier (river, major highway, etc.); not defined by a sole private sector collective (i.e. an apartment complex, homeowners association or gated community); all residents in one and only one neighborhood association; not necessarily aligned with precincts, school districts or census tracts.
- Options for initiating boundary changes – (1) by membership vote of an active or semi-active association; (2) as part of a strategy to reactivate a dormant association; (3) by a membership-initiated petition process; (4) when the boundary of an active or semi-active association is not consistent with the adopted guidelines.
- The “if, how and when” under scenarios 2-4 will be worked out by a committee comprised of representatives from the association’s board, Neighborhood Leaders Council, Neighborhood Services staff and the City Councilor(s) representing the area.

Neighborhood Services assesses the status of all neighborhood association boundaries as part of the annual neighborhood association reporting process. As part of the 2010 report, the CYNA boundary was found inconsistent with configuration and size criteria. For example, the neighborhood is divided by Delta Highway and Randy Papé Beltline and contains over 14 percent of the City’s residential addresses (11,053). The annual review indicated that Active Bethel Citizens, Santa Clara Community Organization, and Harlow Neighbors are also inconsistent with the size and/or configuration criteria of the guidelines. Neighborhood Services will be coordinating a review of these neighborhood boundaries in 2012.

In January 2011, a CYNA Boundary Revision Committee with the following members began meeting to formulate a recommendation on this issue:

John Jaworski, CYNA President
Merrilee Eisen, CYNA Vice President
Bob Proctor, CYNA Secretary/Treasurer
Jenny Soyke, CYNA Newsletter Editor
Mike Edwards, CYNA Area 4 Representative
Todd Torrey, CYNA Area 2 Representative
Todd Larsen, CYNA Area 1 Representative
Randy Prince, Neighborhood Leaders Council Co-Chair
Alan Buck, Neighborhood Leaders Council Co-Chair (later replaced by Jennifer Yeh, NLC Co-Chair)
Michael Kinnison, Neighborhood Services
Councilor Mike Clark
Councilor George Poling

The group met nearly monthly through September and considered a number of scenarios that would subdivide the neighborhood and achieve compliance with the boundary guidelines. Residents were asked their perspectives on what they felt made sense for neighborhood boundaries through email surveys, phone contacts, personal interviews and area meetings. Feedback received was supportive of subdividing the area but with no clear consensus on where boundaries should be drawn. Options for new boundaries were also presented for feedback at a CYNA general meeting.

The committee recommended an approach that would result in the fewest number of divisions while still complying with the boundary guidelines. The committee recommended two new neighborhood associations be formed. Northeast Neighbors (NEN) would comprise all lands within the urban growth boundary (UGB) north of Beltline and Goodpasture Island Neighbors (GIN) would encompass all lands west of Delta Highway. The CYNA would continue to exist within a smaller area that includes those lands south of Randy Pape Beltline and between Delta Highway and Coburg Road. This configuration also met the committee's desire to avoid creating new neighborhood associations without leadership to fill active boards. Through their outreach, the committee successfully recruited full slates of board candidates for the two new associations.

On September 22, the CYNA general membership unanimously voted to support the boundary realignment. Subsequently, NEN and GIN held their first organizational meetings, elected full boards and adopted charter documents. The CYNA is scheduled to amend its current charter at the January annual meeting to reflect the new boundary and hold elections to fill vacancies resulting from the change. An amended CYNA charter will be submitted to council for approval after the annual meeting.
